01 Video Structure Overview

This 18-minute video by TEDx Talks is structured into 7 key sections.

1 introduction

0:00 ~ 1:41

피터 세이지가 왜 똑똑하고 동기부여된 사람들이 미루고, 자기 파괴를 하며, 보이지 않는 천장에 부딪히는지에 대한 강력한 수사적 질문으로 시작합니다. 커널 샌더스, 오프라, 헬렌 켈러, 아인슈타인의 예를 들어 자원 부족이라는 변명을 반박합니다.

Intelligent people still procrastinate and self-sabotage

Many people find different ways to earn the same amount of money (glass ceiling effect)

Lack of resources is not the real reason — proof lies in people who succeeded with nothing

2 body

1:41 ~ 2:55

신경계의 편안함 추구와 영혼의 성장 추구 사이의 긴장을 설명합니다. 신피질(전두엽) 개념을 소개하고, 7세까지 활성화되지 않아 아이들이 델타/세타 뇌파 상태에서 매우 영향받기 쉽다고 설명합니다.

Nervous system is hardwired for comfort; our essence is hardwired for growth

The neocortex doesn't turn on until age 7

Children operate in delta and theta brainwave states with no critical thinking

Aristotle: 'Give me the child for seven years, and I'll give you the man'

3 body

2:57 ~ 5:50

계산대에서의 '꼬마 조니' 이야기를 통해, 스트레스 받은 아버지의 무심한 말('넌 충분히 좋지 않아')이 아이의 잠재의식에 깊이 각인되는 과정을 보여줍니다. '자기 성장의 첫 번째 법칙' — 사람은 결코 자기 자신에 대한 의견 이상으로 올라가지 못한다는 것을 소개합니다.

Children don't hear adult frustration — they only hear 'I'm not good enough'

Childhood experiences create unconscious limiting beliefs

First law of personal growth: people never rise above the opinion of themselves

Self-opinion is largely formed before age 7

First law of relationships: no one can love us more than we love ourselves

4 body

5:51 ~ 9:04

뇌가 반복된 결정을 습관으로 중뇌에 넘겨 에너지를 절약하는 방법을 설명합니다. 두 가지 강력한 비유를 사용합니다: 의식은 남쪽으로 향하는 코끼리(무의식) 등 위를 북쪽으로 행진하는 재미이며, 마음은 기본값이 부정인 나침반 바늘과 같다는 것입니다.

The brain is 1/50th of body weight but uses 20% of calories

Repeated decisions become unconscious habits (midbrain)

Conscious mind (ant) = 5%, Unconscious mind (elephant) = 95%

The compass needle analogy: free will lets us point it anywhere, but it defaults to negative

We are 'sleeping awake' 95% of the time

5 body

9:04 ~ 11:15

핵심 원칙을 제시합니다: 환경은 시간이 지나면 항상 의도를 이깁니다. 재즈 음악 비유로 설명합니다 — 컨트리 팬이 5일간 노출 후 재즈를 흥얼거리게 되는 것. 이를 동조의 법칙과 연결합니다: 함께 시간을 보내는 사람들처럼 변하게 됩니다.

Environment trumps will — 'tattoo it on the inside of your eyelids'

Jazz music analogy: programming happens regardless of conscious choice

We are programmable by design — we can only choose HOW we get programmed

Positive affirmations can't overcome a toxic environment

Law of conformity: hang out with 9 drug users, become the 10th

6 body

11:17 ~ 16:12

세 가지 실천 팁을 공유합니다: (1) 잘못된 것 넣는 것 멈추기 — 주류 미디어와 유해한 또래 집단 피하기; (2) 올바른 것 넣기 시작하기 — 긍정적이고 성장 지향적인 콘텐츠 소비하기; (3) 잘못된 것 꺼내기 — 무의식적 패턴을 찾아 제거할 수 있는 멘토와 일하기. 시간 관리 고객의 진짜 문제가 거절에 대한 두려움이었던 예로 설명합니다.

Tip 1: Stop the wrong inputs — stop watching news, curate your peer group

CNN = 'Constant Negative News' — media stimulates the amygdala

Love your family, choose your friends

Tip 2: Start the right inputs — podcasts, books, inspirational content

Be the star of your life movie, not a film extra in someone else's

Tip 3: Remove wrong patterns — find a mentor who addresses root causes

Time management example: the real issue was inability to deal with rejection

7 conclusion

16:13 ~ 18:08

세 가지 팁을 모두 궁극적 목표인 자기 통달에 연결하며 결론을 맺습니다. 자아를 통달하는 것이 인류 역사를 통틀어 1순위 권고 사항이었다고 주장합니다. 자기 통달은 혼돈 속에서도 중심을 유지하고, 불확실성을 다루며, 강요가 아닌 변화의 초대가 되게 합니다. 간디의 유명한 명언으로 마무리합니다.

Self mastery is 'the real game in town'

Work on yourself before spending on workshops or skills

Mastery allows you to be the eye of the storm in chaos

Be the example and invitation, not the imposition

People change because they're inspired, not because they're told to

Be the change you wish to see in the world (Gandhi)

02 Essential Vocabulary

Core words from the video that are high-value for learners.

procrastinate /prəˈkræstɪneɪt/ verb

To delay or postpone action; to put off doing something

미루다, 지연하다

From Latin 'procrastinare' (pro- 'forward' + crastinus 'of tomorrow')

"Why is it that intelligent people procrastinate?"

Related: procrastination, procrastinator, delay, postpone self-sabotage /ˌselfˈsæbətɑːʒ/ verb/noun

To undermine one's own efforts or goals, often unconsciously

자기 파괴하다, 스스로를 방해하다

self + sabotage (from French 'sabot' meaning wooden shoe, workers threw shoes into machinery)

"Why is it that people that are so self-motivated often self-sabotage?"

Related: self-defeating, self-destructive, undermine mediocre /ˌmiːdiˈoʊkər/ adjective

Of only average quality; not very good

평범한, 보통의, 그저 그런

From Latin 'mediocris' (of middle height or degree), from 'medius' (middle) + 'ocris' (rugged mountain)

"That causes the frustration for most people and keeps them on that hamster wheel of mediocrity."

Related: mediocrity, average, ordinary, middling impressionable /ɪmˈpreʃənəbl/ adjective

Easily influenced or affected by others; susceptible to forming strong impressions

감수성이 예민한, 영향받기 쉬운

From French 'impressionnable', from 'impression' (a pressing in)

"Now, it also means children are very impressionable."

Related: impression, impressionable, susceptible, malleable

hardwired /ˈhɑː rdwaɪərd/ adjective

Innately or permanently determined; built into the basic structure

타고난, 본능적으로 내장된

From electronics: 'hard' + 'wired' — circuits permanently connected rather than programmable

"You see, as human beings, our nervous system is hardwired for comfort."

Related: innate, ingrained, built-in, instinctive

unravel /ʌn ˈrævəl/ verb

To investigate and solve; to undo or unwind something tangled or complex 풀다, 해명하다, (실타래 등을) 풀어헤치다

From Dutch 'ontrafel' (un- + ravel 'to tangle')

"So how do we unravel that?"

Related: unwind, untangle, decipher, solve conformity /kən ˈfɔː rməti/ noun

Compliance with standards, rules, or laws; behavior in accordance with social norms

동조, 순응, 일치

From Latin 'conformare' (con- 'together' + formare 'to form')

"At some point you're going to start to believe it. That's the law of conformity."

Related: conform, conformist, compliance, adherence undisputed /ˌʌndɪˈspjuː tɪd/ adjective

Not questioned or doubted by anyone; universally accepted

이론의 여지가 없는, 확실한

From 'un-' (not) + 'disputed' (from Latin 'disputare' — to discuss, argue)

"The undisputed first law of personal growth is this."

Related: indisputable, unquestioned, undeniable, incontestable innate /ɪ ˈneɪt/ adjective

Inborn; natural; existing from birth rather than acquired

타고난, 선천적인

From Latin 'innatus' (in- 'into' + natus 'born', past participle of nasci)

"And the innate calling of our potential that lies outside of that."

Related: inborn, inherent, intrinsic, natural reeling /'ri: lɪŋ/ verb (present participle)

Feeling shocked, confused, or unsteady; staggering mentally or physically

휘청거리는, 충격을 받은

From Old English 'hreol' (a reel, winding device); metaphor of spinning/losing balance

"And he's still reeling from the lack of intimacy that morning."

Related: stagger, stumble, reel, daze persistent /pər 'sɪstənt/ adjective

Continuing firmly in a course of action despite difficulty or opposition

끈질긴, 집요한, 지속적인

From Latin 'persistere' (per- 'through' + sistere 'to stand')

"Children are prime examples of the ability to be persistent, are they not?"

Related: persistence, persevere, tenacious, determined industrious /ɪn 'dʌstriəs/ adjective

Diligent and hard-working

부지런한, 근면한

From Latin 'industria' (diligence, activity)

"Ants are industrious."

Related: industry, diligent, assiduous, hardworking analogy /ə 'nælədʒi/ noun

A comparison between things that have similar features to help explain an idea

비유, 유추

From Greek 'analogia' (ana- 'upon, according to' + logos 'ratio, word')

"In fact, I'll give you an analogy."

Related: analogous, metaphor, comparison, parallel affirmation /,æfər 'meɪʃən/ noun

A positive statement or declaration intended to provide encouragement or emotional support

확인, 긍정적 선언

From Latin 'affirmare' (ad- 'to' + firmare 'to strengthen')

"In other words, you can read all of the positive affirmations."

Related: affirm, affirmative, confirmation, assertion embodiment /ɪmˈbɑː dimənt/ noun

A tangible or visible form of an idea, quality, or feeling; the representation of something in a bodily form

구현, 구체화, 화신

From 'em-' (in) + 'body' + '-ment' (result of action)

"And ultimately, be the embodiment of what Gandhi said."

Related: embody, incarnation, manifestation, personification imposition /ˌɪmpəˈzɪʃən/ noun

The act of forcing something on someone; an unwelcome demand or burden

강요, 부과, 부담

From Latin 'imponere' (im- 'upon' + ponere 'to place')

"Not the imposition. Nobody changes because you tell them to."

Related: impose, imposing, position, deposit downsizing /ˈdaʊnsaɪzɪŋ/ noun/verb

The process of reducing the number of employees in a company; making something smaller

감원, 구조조정, 규모 축소

From 'down' (reduction) + 'size' + '-ing'

"He's worried about whether the boss is going to be downsizing soon."

Related: layoff, restructure, cutback, redundancy

recreational /ˌrɛkriˈeɪʃənəl/ adjective

Relating to or denoting activity done for enjoyment rather than as a necessity

오락의, 기호용의, 여가의

From Latin 'recreatio' (re- 'again' + creare 'to create')

"If you hang out with nine recreational drug users, I've got news for you."

Related: recreation, leisure, amusement, pastime mastery /ˈmæstəri/ noun

Comprehensive knowledge or skill in a subject; complete control or dominance

통달, 숙달, 지배

From Old French 'maistrerie', from Latin 'magister' (master, teacher)

"That's when we can start to achieve the real game in town, which is self mastery."

Related: master, masterful, expertise, proficiency

03 Additional Vocabulary

Supplementary words that appear in the video and are useful for expanding your vocabulary.

neocortex /ˌniː ɒʊ'kɔː rtɛks/

noun

The outer layer of the cerebral hemispheres, responsible for higher-order brain functions such as reasoning and language

신피질 (고차원적 사고를 담당하는 대뇌 겉질)

From Greek 'neo-' (new) + Latin 'cortex' (bark, outer layer)

"What's known as the neocortex or the frontal lobe."

Related: cortex, frontal lobe, cerebral, prefrontal

amygdala /ə'mɪgdələ/

noun

A small almond-shaped brain structure involved in processing emotions, especially fear

편도체 (감정, 특히 공포를 처리하는 뇌 구조)

From Greek 'amygdale' (almond), named for its shape

"The job of the mainstream media is to stimulate another part of the brain called the amygdala."

Related: limbic system, hypothalamus, emotional response psychotherapeutic /ˌsaɪkəʊθɛrə'piː tɪk/

adjective

Relating to or involved in the treatment of mental disorders through psychological methods

심리치료의, 정신치료의

From Greek 'psyche' (mind/soul) + 'therapeutikos' (healing)

"I've come to know that the undisputed first law in psychotherapeutic intervention and other areas."

Related: psychotherapy, therapeutic, psychological, counseling

minefield /'maɪnfɪː ld/

noun

An area full of hidden dangers or difficulties (figuratively); literally an area with buried explosive mines

지뢰밭 (비유적: 위험으로 가득한 영역)

From 'mine' (explosive device) + 'field' (open area)

"Work with a decent mentor or a coach that understands how to navigate the minefield of human behavior."

Related: hazardous, treacherous, pitfall, booby trap descending /dɪˈsɛndɪŋ/ verb (present participle)

Moving downward; falling into a particular state

내려가는, (상태가) 빠져드는

From Latin 'descendere' (de- 'down' + scandere 'to climb')

"We're able to walk into a room where everything's descending into chaos and retain our center."

Related: descend, descent, ascend, escalate

04 Grammar Patterns

Key grammar structures used in the video. Each pattern includes real examples.

Why is it that...?

An emphatic cleft structure used to ask questions with extra emphasis. 'It' is a dummy subject, and 'that' introduces the main clause. This is more emphatic than simply asking 'Why do...?'

'Why is it that...?'는 강조를 위한 분열문 구조입니다. 'it'은 형식 주어이고 'that'절이 진짜 질문 내용을 담고 있습니다. 'Why do...?'보다 더 강한 강조를 나타냅니다.

{sentence: 'Why is it that intelligent people procrastinate?', 'translation': '왜 똑똑한 사람들이 미루는 걸까요?}

{sentence: 'Why is it that people that are so self-motivated often self-sabotage?', 'translation': '왜 스스로 동기부여가 잘 되는 사람들이 종종 자기 파괴를 할까요?}

As if + past subjunctive

Used to describe a hypothetical or unreal situation. 'As if' introduces a clause that describes something that is not actually true but feels like it could be. The past tense ('was/were') signals unreality.

'As if + 과거 가정법'은 실체가 아닌 가상의 상황을 묘사할 때 사용합니다. 'As if'는 실제로는 사실이 아니지만 그렇게 느껴지는 상황을 소개합니다. 과거형이 비현실을 나타냅니다.

{sentence: 'As if there was kind of a glass ceiling above our head.', 'translation': '마치 우리 머리 위에 유리 천장이 있는 것처럼.'}

No matter how + adjective/adverb + clause

A concessive structure meaning 'regardless of how much/many.' It emphasizes that the result remains unchanged despite varying degrees of something.

'No matter how'는 '아무리 ~해도'라는 양보의 의미를 나타내는 구조입니다. 정도가 달라져도 결과는 변하지 않는다는 점을 강조합니다.

{sentence: 'No matter how many new business opportunities we get.', 'translation': '아무리 많은 새로운 사업 기회를 얻어도.'}

What + be known as + noun (identification cleft)

This structure is used to introduce a technical term or formal name for something. 'What' functions as a relative pronoun meaning 'the thing that.'

'What's known as'는 전문 용어나 공식 명칭을 소개할 때 사용하는 구조입니다. 'What'은 '~라고 알려진 것'이라는 의미의 관계 대명사로 기능합니다.

{ 'sentence': "What's known as the neocortex or the frontal lobe.", 'translation': '신피질 또는 전두엽이라고 알려진 부분.' }

{ 'sentence': "What I call people sleeping awake.", 'translation': "제가 '깨어 있으면서 자는 상태'라고 부르는 것." }

Give me + noun, and I'll give you + noun

A conditional promise structure expressing a cause-and-effect guarantee. It's often used in persuasive or confident speech to convey certainty about an outcome.

'Give me A, and I'll give you B'는 원인-결과의 보장을 표현하는 조건부 약속 구조입니다. 결과에 대한 확신을 전달할 때 설득적 화법에서 자주 사용됩니다.

{ 'sentence': "Give me the child for seven years, and I'll give you the man.", 'translation': '저에게 7년간 아이를 주시면, 그 사람을 만들어 드리겠습니다.' }

...are they not? / ...is it not? (Tag questions for emphasis)

Inverted tag questions using formal structure to seek agreement or add rhetorical emphasis. More formal and persuasive than the contracted form 'aren't they?'

도치된 부가의문문으로, 동의를 구하거나 수사적 강조를 더할 때 사용합니다. 축약형 'aren't they?'보다 더 격식적이고 설득적입니다.

{ 'sentence': 'Children are prime examples of the ability to be persistent, are they not?', 'translation': '아이들은 끈기의 대표적인 예입니다, 그렇지 않나요?' }

It's not down to + noun (British English causation)

'Down to' means 'caused by' or 'attributable to.' This British English expression is used to identify or reject a cause.

'Not down to' negates the proposed cause.

'Down to'는 '~때문이다, ~에 기인하다'라는 의미의 영국식 표현입니다. 원인을 식별하거나 부정할 때 사용됩니다. 'Not down to'는 제시된 원인을 부정합니다.

{ 'sentence': "It's not down to lack of resources or opportunity.", 'translation': '자원이나 기회의 부족 때문이 아닙니다.' }

Rather than + verb/noun (expressing preference or contrast)

Used to present an alternative or contrast. It introduces what is not chosen or what happens instead. Often used to emphasize the unexpected or less desirable option.

'Rather than'은 대안이나 대조를 제시할 때 사용합니다. 선택되지 않은 것이나 대신 일어나는 것을 소개합니다. 예상치 못하거나 덜 바람직한 선택을 강조할 때 자주 씁니다.

{'sentence': 'Rather than take up critical thinking, it hands it over to the midbrain.', 'translation': '비판적 사고를 사용하는 대신 중뇌로 넘겨버립니다.'}

If you + present simple, by default + future result

A conditional structure where the speaker presents an automatic consequence of inaction. 'By default' emphasizes that the outcome is inevitable without deliberate choice.

행동하지 않으면 자동으로 일어나는 결과를 제시하는 조건문 구조입니다. 'By default'는 의도적 선택 없이는 결과가 불가피하다는 것을 강조합니다.

{'sentence': 'If you're not choosing to do that, by default you're going to be hooked into somebody else's agenda.', 'translation': '그것을 선택하지 않으면, 기본적으로 다른 누군가의 의제에 빠져들게 됩니다.'}

{'sentence': 'If you don't start filming as the star of the movie in your life, by default you're going to end up as a film extra in somebody else's.', 'translation': '자기 인생의 영화에서 주인공으로 촬영을 시작하지 않으면, 기본적으로 다른 누군가의 영화에서 엑스트라가 될 겁니다.'}

When + clause, that's when + result clause

A temporal emphatic structure that highlights the specific moment or condition that enables a particular outcome. 'That's when' focuses attention on the timing or precondition.

'When + 절, that's when + 결과절'은 특정 결과를 가능하게 하는 순간이나 조건을 강조하는 시간적 강조 구조입니다. 'That's when'이 타이밍이나 전제조건에 주의를 집중시킵니다.

{'sentence': 'When we start grabbing that compass needle... That's when we can start to achieve the real game in town, which is self mastery.', 'translation': '나침반 바늘을 잡기 시작할 때... 그때 우리는 진정한 게임인 자기 통달을 시작할 수 있습니다.'}

I've got news for you (rhetorical warning expression)

A colloquial expression used as a rhetorical device to prepare the listener for an uncomfortable truth or surprise. Often used with irony or humor in speeches.

'I've got news for you'는 듣는 사람에게 불편한 진실이나 놀라움을 준비시키는 수사적 표현입니다. 연설에서 종종 아이러니나 유머와 함께 사용됩니다.

{'sentence': "I've got news for you. You're in Disneyland.", 'translation': '알려드릴 게 있습니다. 디즈니랜드에 계신 겁니다.'}

{'sentence': "If you hang out with nine recreational drug users, I've got news for you.", 'translation': '9명의 기호용 마약 사용자와 어울리면, 알려드릴 게 있습니다.'}

People like + proper noun (exemplification pattern)

A pattern used to provide concrete, well-known examples to support a general point. It makes abstract arguments tangible and persuasive by referencing real people.

'People like + 고유명사'는 일반적인 주장을 뒷받침하기 위해 구체적이고 유명한 예시를 제공하는 패턴입니다. 실제 인물을 참조하여 추상적 논증을 구체적이고 설득력 있게 만듭니다.

{'sentence': 'People like Colonel Sanders, who retired broke at 65 before starting KFC.', 'translation': '65세에 빈털터리로 은퇴한 후 KFC를 시작한 커널 샌더스 같은 사람들.'}

{'sentence': 'Obviously Oprah, people like Helen Keller.', 'translation': '물론 오프라, 헬렌 켈러 같은 분들.'}

05 Connected Speech & Pronunciation

Natural pronunciation patterns found in the talk. Practice these to sound more natural!

Linking (연음)

stand in awe of → 스탠디너워브 /stænd ɪn ə: (r) ʌv/
'stand'의 'd'가 'in'의 모음 'i'와 연결되고, 'awe'가 'of'와 연결 /r/ 또는 모음 'ə'를 통해 이어집니다.
Say 'standinawe-of' as one fluid phrase. The /d/ connects to /ɪ/ without a pause.

turned on until → 턴돈 언틸 /tɜ: rnd ɒn ʌn 'tɪl/
'turned'의 'd'가 'on'의 모음 'o'에 연결되고, 'on'의 'n'이 'until'의 모음 'u'에 연결되어 매끄러운 체인을 만듭니다.
Practice the chain: 'turn-DON-untill'. Each consonant ending flows into the next vowel beginning.

an elephant → 어넬러펀트 /ən 'ɛlɪfənt/
'an'의 /n/이 'elephant'의 /ɛ/ 모음에 바로 연결되어 부드러운 비음-모음 연결을 만듭니다.
Say 'a-NELL-uh-funt' — the /n/ glides into the /ɛ/ without any pause.

rise above → 라이저버브 /raɪz ə 'bʌv/
'rise'의 /z/가 'above'의 슈와 /ə/에 부드럽게 연결되어 유성 자음-모음 연음을 만듭니다.
Say 'ri-ZUH-buv' — the /z/ naturally glides into the unstressed /ə/ of 'above'.

take a swing at → 테이커 스윙앳 /teɪk ə swɪŋ æt/
'take'의 /k/가 'a'의 슈와에 연결되고, 'swing'의 /ŋ/이 'at'의 /æ/로 흘러갑니다. 하나의 구에서 여러 연음 지점이 있습니다.
Say 'tay-kuh-swing-at' as a rhythmic unit. The idiomatic phrase should flow as one connected expression.

Reduction (축약)

kind of a → 카인더버 /'kaɪndəvə/
'Kind of a'는 자연스러운 발화에서 크게 축약됩니다. 'Of'가 슈와 /ə/로 되고 'a'와 합쳐져 빠른 3음절 단위가 됩니다.
Practice saying 'kinda' first, then add the unstressed 'a' — 'kindava'. This is extremely common in casual English.

want to → 워너 /'wɒnə/
'Want to'는 일상 영어에서 흔히 'wanna'로 축약됩니다. 두 단어 사이의 /t/ + /t/ 자음군이 단순화됩니다.
Say 'wanna' as one word. This is standard in all levels of informal speech. 'I wanna share' = 'I want to share'.

going to → 거너

/ˈɡɒnə/

'Going to'는 거의 모든 일상 영어에서 'gonna'로 축약됩니다. '-ing to' 전체가 /nə/로 단 순화됩니다.

Say 'gonna' as a two-syllable word: 'GAH-nuh'. This is the most common reduction in English.

you know → 여노

/jə noʊ/

필러 구 'you know'는 크게 축약됩니다. 'You'가 비강세 /jə/가 되어 'know'와 합쳐집니다. 이 강연에서 담화 표지어로 사용됩니다.

Say 'y'know' as almost one syllable. It functions as a pause filler and doesn't carry meaning.

out of → 아우러브

/ˈaʊdəv/

'out'의 /t/가 비강세 'of' 앞에서 탄설음 /d/로 유성화되고(미국식), 'of'는 /əv/로 축약됩니다.

Say 'ouda' — the /t/ becomes a soft /d/ flap and 'of' reduces to just a schwa sound.

what do you → 워더어

/wʌdəjə/

'What do you'는 빠른 발화에서 크게 축약됩니다. 'What'의 /t/가 탈락하고, 'do'는 /də/로, 'you'는 /jə/로 축약됩니다.

Practice saying 'whaddya' — three words compressed into two syllables. Very common in conversational English.

Elision (탈락)

didn't know how → 디든 노 하우

/ˈdɪdn̩ noʊ haʊ/

'didn't'의 't'는 연결 발화에서 종종 탈락하고 성문폐쇄음으로 대체됩니다. 비음 /n/이 음절을 담당합니다.

Instead of clearly saying 'did-not', say 'dihn' with a subtle stop at the end, then flow into 'know how'.

most likely → 모스 라이클리

/moʊs(t) ˈlaɪkli/

'most'의 /t/가 'likely'의 /l/ 앞에서 종종 탈락합니다. 이 자음군 단순화는 영어에서 매우 자연스럽습니다.

Say 'mohs-likely' — drop the /t/ and let the /s/ flow into /l/. This is standard native pronunciation.

let's look at the → 렛스 루컬 더

/lets lʊk ət ðə/

'at'의 /t/가 'the' 앞에서 종종 탈락하고, 'the'는 /ðə/로 축약됩니다. 전체 구가 빠른 단위로 이어집니다.

Practice the phrase as one unit: 'lets-LOOK-uh-thuh'. Keep it flowing without stopping at 'at'.

Assimilation (동화)

good old midbrain → 구돌 미드브레인

/gʊd oʊl 'mɪdbrɛn/

'good'의 /d/가 'old'의 모음과 동화되어 부드러운 'guh-dold' 연결을 만듭니다.

Say 'goodold' as almost one word: 'guh-dold'. The /d/ flows right into the /oʊ/ vowel.

can't have → 캔 해브

/kɑː n(t) hæv/

'can't'의 /t/가 'have'의 /h/ 앞에서 종종 동화되거나 미파열됩니다. /h/의 성문적 특성이 /t/ 파열을 흡수합니다.

Say 'can-have' with a very brief stop between 'can' and 'have'. The /t/ becomes almost inaudible.
